(54) Title: A METHOD AND APPARATUS FOR ASSIGNING ACCESS CONTROL LEVELS IN PROVIDING ACCESS TO NETWORKED CONTENT FILES

(57) Abstract: A method and apparatus for assigning access control levels when providing access to networked content files includes a client node (102), a collection agent (104), and a policy engine (106). The client node requests access to a resource. The collection agent gathers information about the client node. The policy engine receives the gathered information and assigns one of a plurality of levels of access responsive to application of a policy to the received information. An application server farm (114) may present contents of the resource to the client node using an application program associated with a file type of the requested file. A transformation server (516) may transform the contents of the resource from a native format to a second format and present the transformed contents of the resource to the client node.

3. ☐ Claims Nos.:
because they are dependent claims and are not drafted in accordance with the second and third sentences of Rule 6.4(a).

Box III Observations where unity of invention is lacking (Continuation of item 3 of first sheet)

This International Searching Authority found multiple inventions in this international application, as follows:

see additional sheet

1. ☒ As all required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant, this International Search Report covers all searchable claims.
2. ☐ As all searchable claims could be searched without effort justifying an additional fee, this Authority did not invite payment of any additional fee.
